

NO. 21

Many of our readers may have seen quotations from Darwin which have widely published, referring to a connection between the domestication of the cat and the amount of the clover crop. The mousetrigger is visited and fertilized by humble-bees, the proboscis of this insect not being long enough to reach the center. The number of humble-bee in a district depends, says Darwin, in a measure on the number of field mice, which destroy the combs and nests of the humble-bees. The number of field mice is, again, largely dependent on that of cats, and nests of humble-bees are therefore, especially abundant near towns and villages where cats abound. Hence, it may be that to our domestication of the cat is to a great extent the possibility of the clover crops.

We sometimes find the greatest advantage in hatching. Humble-bees are said to be the most where field-hives can not get at the nests. Now, humble-bees, like Dandy Mont dogs, will attack any living creature with a hairy skin, and woo to man or much more to any mouse that would tempt to hary the nest or "bike" of a well-armed colony, for they will follow a person a long way, and sting him in the eye if they can, and if presented in

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 1, 1878.

PERSONAL.

Our thanks are due to Capt. Wm. T. Johnston, for his paper.

Judge John A. Murray is holding court at Harbington.

J. Allen Boyd, of Owensboro, Ky., was in town last Saturday.

Dr. R. T. Dempster, of Falls of Rough, is in town Thursday.

Mr. Nat L. Healy and Mr. Ellis Mead, of Harbington, were in town Wednesday.

Dr. R. L. Newsum has purchased, at Henderson, Ky., 5,000 bushels of corn for this market.

Miss Mary Hunter, of Stephensport, Ky., was in town Saturday, the guest of Mrs. F. N. D'Hay.

Miss Hattie Hazzell, of Harbington, Ky., is visiting Miss Lela Leely here at Mr. Nat Wilson's.

A wedding on Long Neck this week. Dr. J. R. Dempster and Mrs. Bettie Howard are the contracting parties.

Mr. C. H. Harkinsham, of this place, Mrs. Christiana Reidel, of Cincinnati, O., are visiting Mrs. J. C. Pierce, of this place.

Messrs. R. L. Chace & Co. have already purchased about 100,000 pounds of tobacco. We may expect a lively demand in a short time.

Dr. Blackburn, candidate for Governor, will address the citizens of Breckinridge county at Harbington this third Monday in this month.

Our young friend, R. E. Woods, was in the office Thursday, looking well. We are glad to hear that he is getting on swimmingly.

Miss Ida White's mocking bird died last Sunday morning. Its death cast a melancholy gloom over the whole household. It was a sweet singer.

Miss Kate Babbage has returned home from Louisville, where she has spent some time visiting friends, and having a nice time generally.

Mr. Sam Shedd and son, of Louisville, Ky., who have been in the city for several days, left on the steamer, James Guthrie, Sunday morning.

Messrs. Vest & Smart have bought over 20,000 hoop poles this season. A great many of them were hauled off and twenty miles.

Mr. John Holder, of this place, died of consumption on the 26th, ult. He leaves a wife and one child. We have no particulars of his life or we would publish an obituary.

The pastor of the Methodist church, in Cloverport, is very thankful to those kind friends for their Thanksgiving offering, sent to the parsonage on the 26th.

Mr. Ed A. Toney, of Chicago, Ill., is visiting his brother, Mr. T. C. Toney, of this place, where he will remain during the winter on account of ill health.

Mr. R. L. Pierce, of this place, has recently gained an important suit in the Court of Appeals, which we learn will be of considerable pecuniary benefit to him.

Mr. Ben Miller, one of our oldest and most enterprising farmers, contracted with Mr. J. B. Rogers, last week, for the building of a large two story frame on his farm near Harbington.

Two of Cloverport's charming and highly accomplished belles came tripping like sylphs, into the dingy palace of an, veritable Imps-of-the-late, and, with their sweet smiles, pleasant words, cheery laughter, and wilting loveliness inspired us with a nobler spirit of aspirations. Their visit, though short, constitutes one of the pleasant little social events of the life-path of the News printers.

We will send the News from now until the end of January, 1879, for $1.50.

Our associate editor, Hon. D. H. Murray, has been suddenly and unexpectedly called to New Orleans, to the large Railroad and Commercial convention which is to meet at that place. He will be here in a few days, and will be the Mayor's agent of welcome. We have, however, an able pro tem in his place.

Any candidate wishing their announcement in the News can have it inserted from now until the election for $5.00 cash, in advance. No announcement inserted unless accompanied by the cash.

As this is Thanksgiving week some of our important local and business items have given place for the Thanksgiving services.

Hon. J. H. Worrall and J. B. McDonald have been holding religious services at the Presbyterian church for the last two weeks. There have joined the church, on Monday night eight or ten came forward for the prayer of the church. The services have been very interesting indeed. Mr. Worrall is a very eloquent young minister, and has, for several years, been preaching at the Presbyterian church in the western part of the State. He is a native of the State and will make him a successful minister of the Gospel. We publish his sermon preached on Thanksgiving Day at the Methodist church which cannot fail to interest you.

Criminal Court.
Criminal Court convened at Harbington last Monday, with his Hon. Judge Murray, presiding. The day was taken up with a few cases, the most important being a charge of larceny against a man named John, which is larger than usual. The Judge's charge to the jury was lengthy, pointed, and followed in a plain forcible manner. The trial closed, Mr. J. B. Board, reported 29 Chancery suits and 40 Common Law suits. County Clerk, Mr. G. F. Jolly, reported 29 Bonds, Mortgages, and Powers of Attorney, four County Bonds, two Tavern Licenses and one Coffee House License. The following are the names of the present Grand Jurors:
J. T. Owen, Foreman, Seated; E. Wagoner, Ellis Mead, R. T. Keenan, Jas. Morrison, Geo. Hilkey, William, Alf. W. H. Harkinsham, John W. Harkinsham, Peyton Frost, Richard McCoy, John Harkinsham, E. T. Drane, O. B. Harkinsham, Harry Harkinsham.

We will send the NEWS and DE-TROIT FREE PRESS, One Year, for $2.50.

Read Messrs. Frazer & Miller's double column advertisement, and when you come to town go down and examine for yourselves. They will tell you right.

J. L. Miller has the thing for the Farmer. He will sell you the Best Tobacco Seed that is made for $12.50. And you can raise Your Own Tobacco. Call and see them.

Look Here!—Do you want to make money fast? If so, send your address to the Home Visitor Publishing Company, Pittsburg, Pa. We want a good local agent in every county in the U. S. We offer best inducements to subscribers and agents than any other paper. The Home Visitor is a large 56-column Independent Literary Family Paper. No continued stories—no advertisements, filled with the choicest reading matter to the taste of all classes, young and old. Our premium chromo, 24x30 inches in size, are the newest and finest subjects in the market. You can have more money at this business, these times, if you are willing to work than at anything else. Circular and terms to agents free.

We will send the NEWS and GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, One Year, for $3.00.

Fill your ice boxes the first chance.

HARBINSBURG.
Criminal Court this week.

Go to Witt & Co. for choice eating apples. A full line of Drugs at Beard & Bestor's.

J. A. Witt & Co. is the place to buy your goods.

You can find Tom and Jerry in Buck's vessels.

The largest Stock of Clothing in town at Witt & Co.

Miss Edith Robinson, of Big Spring, has been visiting Mr. John Harkinsham.

You can get any thing you want at Witt & Co., No. 27, Corner Main and Cross streets.

F. N. D'Hay will be here Christmas week with a big line of Christmas Jewelry.

Gov. Robert Turner, of Clarksville, Tenn., spent a few days in town last week, trying to organize a Female High School.

It cost the Cloverport people $15 to see a fellow turn a cornstalk and then set it on fire.

Don't forget the place at No. 45 Main street, Beard & Bestor. They are not to be behind the times in price.

The members of the colored M. E. Church gave a concert Thursday and Friday nights of last week, the proceeds to relieve them of a debt of $100.

There are several weddings to be around and about Cloverport soon, says the Editor. Who, when and where, don't think anybody will cry about it?

Two women stopped on the street the other day and stood in the snow ankle-deep for five minutes to look at the style of a new coat another had on which had just passed them.

Alex Miller is now with Wurck & Scholtz and one of the cleverest drummers on this route. He carries a full line of confectionery, and many goods and sells at remarkably low prices.

Witt & Co. are selling more goods than any house in town, from the fact that they advertise, and the people know just where to go to get what they want. They make business. They receive goods weekly, and say what you please you can't get ahead of them.

Dick May has got four mules that are considered elegant animals in some particular, but when he let them loose in that lot of his he got them throwing up against the church, where they did their hind legs and trying to kick the gable end off of his stable, then they need a casing.

We saw a fine standing opposite Beard & Bestor's store the other day looking as if it would like to go in and buy something, when Beard signalled to him to get in. He looked at the Duck Point and said, "bring over the ferry boat," and went behind the counter, and went. The Duck Point was knee-deep.

McDANIEL'S.
Paw! Rain! Mud! Cold! Kill bugs! Sell tobacco! Pay taxes! Take the News and be happy.

It is exceedingly dull here. No news of any importance.

Farmers are not doing gathering corn yet, and some have just finished sowing wheat.

We have just had a fine rain that started our mills, and we have "bliss" again.

We have not heard of any more being killed, and no sales on foot. Prices are too low. We have quite a number in the Parks to sell—five horses and well fattened.

Miss Minnie Sherman and Miss Laura Guthrie are visiting our town, the guests of Dr. Catlin and Lady. They seem to be enjoying their visit, and all enjoy their presence, they being full of fun and life. May their shadows never grow less.

The Tobacco Ball has not opened yet. We hear of no one to either buy or sell. Tobacco has been in its best days. Farmers are coming to their senses at last, and begin to turn their attention to something more profitable and lasting. The old plan of profit and mortgage has ruined this country.

Jaeger, Trenton, our wagoner, has bought the J. D. Frank horse and lot, and moved into the town. He keeps two teams ready to haul on long hauls.

Our quarterly meeting was a grand affair. It did not prove a call. There was a good attendance on Sunday, but there was no warm or religious feeling manifested to encourage Bro. Godley to manifest the spirit of the Lord.

The devil is having glorious revivals all over the land. C. A. R.

STEPHENSPORT.

Col. Mosley has moved to town. Mrs. Tinkler, of Topeka, Kansas, is on visit to her brother, R. B. Benefield.

The Crawford Bros. are preparing to recover their tobacco factory.

Col. A. McKaughan and family have returned from a visit to relatives in Henderson county.

Payne & Payne are buying pork and selling goods low down. Don't fail to give them a call when you want bargains.

Samuel Pack's shipped 60 head of hogs, and Anselm Moorhead and Gale Mattingly all head last week. Packs sold at $23.50 and $24.50.

Pork is selling at 31 and 32 cents. Irish potatoes, 50 cents. Sweet potatoes, 60 cents. Wheat, 75 cents per bushel. Cabbage, 4 and 5 cents per head.

H. S. English and L. T. Roberts, from the upper bottom, were in town last week, also J. T. Wheeler, the efficient constable of Union Star.

Hoop-poles are coming in rapidly. One fellow-cowman, R. S. Sexton, is buying and reselling for Cury & Reynolds, of Indiana. He shipped 35,000 last week to New Orleans, on the Star.

A difficulty occurred between Geo. Gilbert and Alex. Bennett at the residence of the latter, on the 18th Nov. In which Bennett was seriously hurt on the head by a kick from a club. Gilbert came to town and a suit was filed against him. Judge Bradburn, who released him on bail until Bennett recovers.

A spirit of enterprise has come over our citizens by working our streets and roads one mile out. The Union Star road is in the center, and if the owners on the Harbington road would do their duty, we might have a good road leading there and beyond. Then we would get the shipping from that part of the country. In the present condition of the road the principal part of it comes here, for the farmers and teamsters are not willing to pay for traveling over the worst piece in the State. Jaegers.

NUDESVILLE.
Squirrels are here in abundance.

The corn gathering season has made its exit from this region.

This burg needs a patent stiffener—it is run out at the heel.

Miss Ellen Watt is visiting friends at Big Spring and Elizabethtown.

Miss Jennie Kaye, of Constantine, will attend school at Vin Gray, this winter.

De LaGrande and family have emigrated to Texas. He will locate in Dallas.

Messrs. Peirce Bennett buying some household furniture the other day. Things began to look auspicious, Peter.

Mr. Casey, of Stephensport, has moved into town. He will open a wood-shop in connection with Mr. Mattingly's blacksmith establishment.

When a fellow reaches the top of a stairway and attempts to make one step higher, the sensation is as perplexing as if he had kicked at a dog that wasn't there.

Mr. Chris Rynolds, a former resident of this vicinity, is now teaching a school at Colebrook, Harbington county. We fear he will be disappointed by some of those Harbington belles.

Every man has a right in this free country to blow nose, but it should be a penal offense to imitate a saw-mill explosion in doing so. We need a new adjustment of things in this life.

While in Harbington last week we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Charles D. Macey, of Prince of Wales. The French-embroidered coat and smoking pipe, which C. D. sent for, has had the desired effect.

It has been said that kissing babies may result in making it cross-eyed, and causing them to be defective of the nose. The safest plan is not to kiss a baby of the feminine persuasion until it attains the age of sixteen years. The cartilage of the nose is much stronger then, besides, the kissing tastes better—we've been told. How! Dr. De.

Tobacco.
Since my last report the market has received some attention. Several loads and crops have been sold at prices ranging from 50 cents to $4.00 per 100, these figures represent the extreme quality. The market will likely be from hand to mouth, for some time to come, as no one seems anxious to carry more stock until there is a show to relieve the overburdened market of the world. Prices seem low, but what is going to be done about it? Farmers sold last year they could not afford to raise it, but if the weather had been propitious, a very large crop would have been the result. Our only hope is to raise less and handle more carefully, thus driving out substitutes. And now let the farmers assess well, sit quietly and expose to the atmosphere to improve color. The appearance of every article determines very much its value. F. V. DOWNS.

STILL THE FARMERS.
Have chance to go back to their old friend, L. MILLER, and have their Blacksmithing done. He has rebuilt his shop and is now ready to do anything in his line. He will keep on hand all kinds of Wagons, and will not be undersold by anybody. He has increased the number of Blacksmiths in the town. Wagons-makers to do anything on Short Notice, his trade may demand. He keeps the Best Assortment of Plow of any shop in the country, and will sell them at Factory Prices. He is ready to make Buggies and Spring Wagons at Bottom Prices.

Last Saturday Wall street was crowded with people and wagons from the country loaded with corn, hay, pork and tobacco, and our merchants did a good business. Dead hogs being more active at this season than at any time during the year made a rush on Messrs. Bowser & Hamilton, who piled up 250 hogs of red and white the day after. This farm has packed, during the week, 125 Mr. Jacob Bishop's receipts are 100, and Messrs. Vest & Smart about 25. Price 31 cents per 100, for the best hogs.

We need two street lamps badly. On the corner where Mr. Harkinsham and Van & Smart's Marshal Taylor, speak to our news page about this.

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

Congress convened last Monday.

It is thought that Governor Wade Hampton will go to the United States Senate from South Carolina.

A negro named Jerry Hicks murdered another negro named John Thomas, at Cincinnati, and is at large.

Lookout, boys, a young lady in Utah broke off her engagement with a young man because he used tobacco.

A fire at Fayette, Ohio, destroyed on the 17th, a drug store and six other buildings, loss $30,000, partially insured.

The Breckenridge Chronicle mentions a hog that weighed 326 pounds. (Claims that county is the fifth place.)

A woman was found dead in a coffin at Columbus, Ky., on the 19th. She appeared to have died of want and exposure.

Warren Tain shot Wm. Love dead in the court house in Indianapolis on the 19th. Love was a witness in court against Tain.

Peter Collins, a railroad hand, was found dead on the track at Henderson, on the 20th. His body was literally torn to pieces by the passing train.

Joseph Ward stabbed and dangerously wounded his father-in-law, Henry Smith, near Fulton, Ky., one day last week. Ward was arrested and sent to jail.

The Cumberland Courier says an oil spring buried up in the bottom of Crocker creek which covered the surface for many miles with oil.

An old and experienced merchant calls all of those persons who buy goods of him and pay the cash, his customers; and those of who buy on tick, he calls his enemies.

The Yonkers has lived in that place for fifty years, and was never at a Sunday school nor prayer meeting.

Geo. W. Hinzinger, president of the Philadelphia Coal Company, was accused of using $80,000 of the company's money. He fled to get bail, and went to jail.

A carriage in which Thos. Kennen, wife, and Lizzie Callahan were riding was thrown into a deep ditch of water, in Woonsocket, R. I., and all three drowned, on the 17th instant.

A very disgusting riot took place in St. Sterling, Nov. 10th, in which there were twenty-three shots fired. Marshall Young, while trying to quell the riot, was mortally wounded.

A young man by the name of Thompson, while attending to his business in a dry goods store, was shot through the window and killed. —Courier-Journal.

A woman joining the Murphy at one of their meetings in New York in a state of intoxication, then asked Mr. Murphy for a "wedding of the crinoline with pepper in it."

No wonder the Vanderbilts are all rich, just look how they economize. Wm. Vanderbilt bought a little mare, "Maud," from Col. Stoen, of Cincinnati, at the insignificant price of $20,000.

One of our exchanges says this earth weighs just exactly 5,955,000,000 tons, 6 ounces and 21 pennyweights, but we can't believe it until we see it on Newton's scales.

Mr. James H. McKinney, proprietor of a hotel near Union depot, at Sherman, Texas, walked into his wife's room the other day and shot her dead, while she was sitting in a rocking chair reading.

Some enterprising young men in and around Zanesville, O., have been digging up the dead, and the Grand Jury is digging them up. They are said to be worse scared than their victims.

A negro boy who was shot while climbing out of a Southern hearer, enroute to Vermont and Ohio, near being elected to Congress as a battle-scarred veteran.

Virgil Jefferson, of color, robbed the home of Almon Dawson, in Trigg county, of $276, set fire to the house, which was consumed, and then fled. He was afterwards captured in Paducah.

Col. Walton Wright, of Huntington, New York, succeeded in getting his life insured for $25,000, and then died. The insurance companies will undertake to prove that Col. Wright died on purpose, to get the money.

A Chicago youth left a Cincinnati young girl to whom he was engaged to be married because he found out she was poor. The girl turned round and inherited $2,000,000, and now she won't speak to him. He has suffered a great misfortune. —R.

Rev. R. P. Marshall, a young minister who had just married, and with his wife, was riding in a buggy enroute for an association in South Carolina, was shot through the head and instantly killed by a negro, who mistook him for a Democratic politician.

A clover thief entered the residence of Mr. H. G. Groom, on Gray street, Louisville, and stole a vest, pair of fine cloth pants and coat. His heart failed him in this dishonour, and he left a pair of old canvas pants intended, to quiet his conscience.

All of the South in the United States are rich, fourthly in England by the name of Chadwick died in 1798, and left them an immense fortune that has been on interest ever since, amounting to $300,000,000. There may be some difficulty to find a family by that name.

At Salinas, Cal., on the 18th instant while Mr. Henry Munkel and Mr. Will Thompson were hoisting some machinery in the DeWitt Flouring Mill a pulley broke and let the whole down on them, crushing them so badly that Mr. Thompson died in a few hours afterwards, and Mr. Munkel is in a very critical condition. —Courier-Journal.
